ROOSEVELT BACK; HIS THROAT SORE

Meets Prentice and Griscom in Outlook Office.

HE BALKS AT STUMPING TOUR

Does Not Want to Start Up State Monday, After Strenuous Week in South and West—Will Alternately Speak and Rest—Favors Senator Lodge—Will Talk from Platform.

There was joy among the few members of the Outlook staff who did not accompany the contributing editor on his trip, because he came back to town to-day. Apparently the staff had planned a little surprise for the colonel. In the main reception room, where the bronze has relief of the colonel used to hang, they had placed a brand-new oil painting of Dr. Abbott. Unfortunately the colonel had no occasion to go into the reception room to-day, so he missed the treat, but the staff hopes he will see it next time. Doubtless he will. It is a real good picture.

The only reason Col. Roosevelt stopped over for a couple of hours in his office this morning was to confer with State Chairman Ezra P. Prentice and County Chairman Lloyd Griscom. He was very tired after the rush of a solid week of speaking and handshaking, and he wanted to return to Oyster Bay just as soon as possible. He came in over the Erie, arriving in Jersey City at 8:15.

Throat Not in Good Condition.
While he was out on the road the colonel learned that the State committee had planned a four days' stumping tour for him, beginning on Monday. In the face of the great strain he has been under and because there are many engagements which he must keep, the colonel balked. His throat is not in good condition, for he has talked much and continuously. The colonel said there is no cause for alarm, and that after a couple of days' rest he will be all right.

A report spread about town to-day that the colonel had called off the speaking tour next week because he had not been well received on the Southern trip Friday. The report was denied. The colonel realized as well as any one that the up-States were apathetic in a large measure, but the lack of warmth has not discouraged him in the least. He will fight as hard as he is able until November 8.

Before he left for Oyster Bay early in the afternoon Col. Roosevelt announced that he was going for a complete rest and that under no circumstances did he wish to be disturbed. He said that Harry Stimson would be down for luncheon Sunday to discuss political matters. He added that he would have nothing to say afterward, and that Mr. Stimson would not, either.

Will Talk from Platform.
On Monday the colonel will leave for a day of campaigning up the Hudson. He will talk from the rear platform, beginning at Yonkers and working up from there. He will address big meetings at Schenectady and at Troy, and will return to New York Tuesday morning.

If he can carry out his plans, Col. Roosevelt will rest some more Tuesday and Wednesday. On Thursday he will speak to the Republicans of New York, and possibly Brooklyn. The next day he leaves for Boston, where he will deliver the promised speech in behalf of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, who is fighting for a re-election to the Senate against Butler Ames.

There are those who are wondering what the colonel will say on this occasion, following close upon his campaign for Senator Beveridge in Indiana Thursday.

On October 24 Col. Roosevelt will go to Birmingham to ride over a lot of deserted farms. Representative Dwight will act as host. The joint will cover more than 100 miles by automobile. The colonel will make political speeches in this vicinity on October 31 and November 1.

BOLTS REPUBLICAN TICKET.

President Stryker, of Hamilton College, Opposed to Roosevelt.
Utica, Oct. 15.—President M. W. Stryker, of Hamilton College, a Republican, who has ever held close to party lines, and one of Vice President Sherman's closest friends and staunch admirers, in a formal statement to-day announced that he intends to vote a good share of the Democratic State ticket at the election in November.

Dr. Stryker says he likes the outspoken position of John A. Dix, the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and he feels strongly against the dominating influence of Theodore Roosevelt. He counts the ex-President a peril to government and law. He fears his reckless agitation and names him as a man who always talks and never acts.

At the recent primaries in Oneida County President Stryker, in the caucus at Clinton, made a vigorous speech directed against the progressive element under the leadership of Col. Roosevelt. Dr. Stryker on that occasion put up a valiant but unsuccessful fight to secure the delegation from the Second Oneida district to Saratoga for Vice President Sherman.

MISS MAUS FAINTS IN COURT

Following his arraignment in Police Court on a charge of making threats, Maurice J. Claggett, prominent socially and politically in Montgomery County, Md., and for years clerk in the office of the tax collector at Annapolis, was yesterday sent to the Washington Asylum Hospital for examination of his mental condition.

When Judge Muldowney ordered that Dr. Stryker be examined, Miss Bertha Maus, of 1339 Thirtieth street northwest, who was the complaining witness, fainted from fear of the prisoner. She was revived and led from the court room, only to grow hysterical and cry, "Don't let him get me."

Miss Maus is a niece of Brig. Gen. Maus, an artillery expert in the government service.

Gaelic Society to Meet.
The first regular meeting of the Gaelic Society for this year will be held next Wednesday evening at the New Willard Hotel. Mgr. Shahan, rector of the Catholic University, will deliver an address on "Keltic love of education." The musical numbers will be given by Mr. Norman Espueta-Daly and Philip Lee Scoupling.

HARMON SURE TO WIN.

Such Is the Opinion of Editor Albert, of Columbus News.

Allen D. Albert, Jr., editor and principal owner of the Columbus (Ohio) News, is in Washington over Sunday, returning from a business trip to New York. His newspaper is making fine strides under his direction, and with the street car strike at Columbus and the political campaign, he has had a busy time of it since he left Washington in February.

"Columbus," said he, "is one of the great interior cities of the country, and I consider myself fortunate in being located there. Everything in Ohio revolves about Columbus. It is to the Buckeye State what Washington is to the nation—not merely in being the capital, but the center of things generally. It is thus an exceptionally good field for newspaper work."

Speaking of politics, he said: "Gov. Harmon's re-election, in my opinion, is assured beyond the shadow of doubt. It is only a question of majority, and it will be a large one. He is a practical, progressive man, and has given the State an excellent business administration."

"The Democrats will certainly gain three, probably five, and possibly seven, seats in Congress. As to the Senatorship there is doubt on both sides. Should the Republicans retain control of the legislature it is by no means sure that Dick will come back. He is decidedly more popular than his colleague, Senator Burton, but has opposition within his party which may prevent his return. Should the Democrats have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature—and I believe they will—there will be several aspirants. John J. Lentz will be most formidable. He represents the Bryan element of the party, which is strong in every part of the State."

Mr. Albert added: "Ohio is confidently expecting to furnish the next President, and a Democrat, in Gov. Harmon."

Entertainments for the Blind.
Following is the programme for volunteer readings and music in the lecture hall, Public Library, at 8 p. m. next Tuesday: Song, piano and cello recital, Miss Clara McCarty, piano; Miss H. Clay Browning, soprano; Miss Florence Wleser, cello.

Readings and musicals are primarily for the benefit of the blind. Other persons will be admitted. Children will not be admitted except as escorts for the blind.

Lunch with the Kaiser.
Berlin, Oct. 15.—Mr. Dickinson, the American Secretary of War, and Mrs. Dickinson took luncheon with the Kaiser at the palace at Potsdam to-day.

LAUD TAFT AT RALLY

Republican League Speakers See Good in Efforts.

"SMOOTHS OUT DIFFERENCES"

Twenty-seven States Represented at Meeting Where Political Aspects Throughout the Country Are Reviewed, and Prospects Are Promiscuously Discussed by Delegates.

That President Taft, in the role of a great pacifier, will smooth out differences between the so-called insurgents and conservatives and lead the Republicans to victory this fall, was the statement of John G. Capers, former Commissioner of Internal Revenue, at the rally of the League of Republican Clubs last night.

"These seeming differences in views between some of our Eastern and our Western Senators are merely on the surface of the political seas," said the speaker. "At heart, these men stand shoulder to shoulder in support of the cardinal principles of Republicanism. While they may differ regarding the rates and application of a tariff law, yet they stand together in support of the principle of protection."

Confidence in Him.
"That man who has obtained so much legislation in the face of what Democrats termed 'an insurgent Congress' will smooth out these differences that are only superficial. President Taft will accomplish more by peaceful measures than many others could accomplish by almost warlike methods."

Republicans of clubs representing twenty-seven States in the league attended the rally, which was the most enthusiastic of the campaign. President E. C. Snyder presided, and made a brief speech exhorting Republicans employed in the District to exercise the right of ballot in their respective States.

William T. Thompson, solicitor for the Treasury Department; William E. Andrews, auditor of the Treasury, and Rev. Zed H. Copp also spoke. Mr. Capers was the principal address of the evening. In addition to his reference to the so-called party dissensions, he spoke at length on the Civil Service Commission's warning to government employees against undue political activity. "These warnings," he said, "may be traced to the legislation of the Democratic minority. The day will come when every government employee will not be hampered by such warnings, but will enjoy the freedom that citizenship in this republic grants him."

P. Aulus to the rally the Ohio State Association held a brief meeting. Rev. Zed H. Copp and President Lehn spoke on campaign issues. A social and general "talkfest" followed the rally.
